GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE

PURPOSE OF THE GENERAL TERMS

The services provided by the CLEF company consist of training which is delivered in the form of internships between or outside public or private establishments.

The training contents and durations are indicated on the website, the factsheets and the programs. The profiles of the trainers are those indicated on the educational documents as well as the agreements or contracts. CLEF reserves the right to modify the program as well as the facilitator if absolutely necessary. The applicant declares to follow the training chosen for professional purposes and to meet the access conditions defined by articles L63212-1 and L63212-2 of the labor code.

The services can take place in our partner rooms and in this case we ensure the provision of all the equipment and software necessary for the training or in the premises defined by the client. In the latter case, unless otherwise decided within the framework of the service contract, the client is responsible for making all resources available. It is his responsibility to ensure ownership of the licenses for the software he installs.

REGISTRATION DETAILS

Registrations are taken into account in order of receipt of complete registration requests. If the maximum number of participants is exceeded (15 people), another session is offered with the agreement of the person concerned. These general conditions prevail over any general order conditions of the legal entity.

Registration will be validated upon receipt of the registration form duly completed, signed and bearing the stamp of the Legal or Physical person financially supporting the training, or payment for the training in the absence of support from an organization, collector or a private or public establishment.
